

Nova Scotia man fined

Several hunting related cases in court

It was evident hunting season was in progress last week as several hunting related charges were heard in Drayton Valley provincial court.

Ross Finemore was fined $500 and lost his hunting license for a year after hunting for bears without a proper tag.

Harry Kish was fined $300 after pleading guilty to shooting a white tail buck out of season near Rocky Rapids. He also lost his hunting license for a year.

Kish told the court he couldn't read or write and Shamehuk told him it was his "responsibility" to find out when the season opens.

Walter Bukkens of Winfield was fined $100 for shooting too many mallard ducks. He was stopped near Lodgepole on September 19 and had four mallard ducks in his possession, two above the limit. Bukkens told the court he got one bird with the first shot and with the second shot "got three of them."

A local case was also heard in Stony Plain court last week. A Nova Scotia man was fined $100 for hunting without a guide.

Vincent Goreham, of Woods Harbor N.S., was caught near Lodgepole after shooting a bull moose. His case was moved to Stony Plain because he had to go back to Nova Scotia before a local court date was available. Goreham also lost his hunting rights in Alberta for a year.

Pheasant stocking

Pheasants frantically flee from their small cages as Rocky Horning sets the birds free. One hundred pheasants were released in the community pastures north of Lodgepole last Friday. After their release the birds disappeared into the tall grass and brush to await the hunters.

Man robbed

The RCMP are investigating a robbery with violence which reportedly took place last weekend.

Cpl. Tom Turner of the Drayton Valley RCMP confirms a report they received about the incident at 4 a.m. Sunday morning near Mike's Store on 50th Ave.

According to the RCMP a lone male was confronted by two males, one with a knife, knocked unconscious and robbed of $200.

FMHS grad

Youth killed last weekend

Drayton Valley recorded its first traffic fatality in five years on the weekend.

RCMP are investigating the death of 17 year old David Floyd Jonzon who was run over by a half ton truck at 2:08 a.m. Sunday morning on 50th Avenue between Woodland Chrysler and Seketa Avenues.

According to witnesses, the Frank Maddock High School grad was lying in the middle of the road when he was accidentally run over.

Investigations by the Drayton Valley RCMP showed that Jonzon, who was walking home at the time, had been drinking at local beverage outlets for six hours prior to the accident.

According to Cpl. Tom Turner, no charges are contemplated against the driver the truck.

The RCMP are looking into the fact that the juvenile had been served in local bars.

Jonzon, who is believed to be the town's first traffic fatality in five years, was about a quarter of a mile from his parents' home at the time of the unfortunate accident.

He leaves to mourn his loving parents, Don and Vivian, two brothers, Jerry and Rick, one sister Christine, all of Drayton Valley.

It's that time of year again...when clocks are turned back one hour. The change takes effect at 2 a.m. on Sunday.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at 2 p.m. from the United Church in Drayton Valley. Interment to follow in the River view Cemetery.

Date set for Engel

Drayton Valley area farmer Sony Engel is scheduled to appear in provincial court tomorrow.

The 50-year-old Engel was charged with obstruction of a peace officer earlier this month after he allegedly refused to leave his farm about 12 miles north of Drayton Valley.

Engel's problems started when the Alberta Agricultural Development Corporation (AADC) foreclosed on his farm because he couldn't make payments on a $200,000 loan.

Engel had borrowed the money to build a 1,700-square-foot hog barn but the AADC started foreclosure proceedings six months after the 1981 loan.

Grand opening is set

Children worry about living to adulthood

By Pembina Institute for Appropriate Development

North American children worry about surviving to adulthood under the nuclear threat. Forty thousand children die in the Third World every day. Half a billion people suffer from hunger and malnutrition on any given day, while the world spends $800 billion on arms every year. We are hearing that there are very human costs of the arms race.

This clearly is a case of misplaced priorities. But the only force that can stop it is an informed citizenry exercising their democratic right to decide. With the sincere belief that citizens can and must understand public issues, the United Nations (UN) has declared the week beginning Oct. 21 Disarmament Week.

We often hear that limiting military spending will result in greater unemployment and a decline in our standard of living. However, the facts do not support this conclusion. For example, the same $1 billion that produces 28,000 jobs in military goods and services can produce 37,000 jobs in personal consumption industries or 71,000 jobs in education. With Canada's defense spending approaching $10 billion in 1987, we are actually losing a lot of jobs through military spending.

While developed countries like Canada and the United States play their future prosperity in doubt with mounting deficits, the effects on the economies of poor countries is even more dramatic. These people are doomed to lives that will not be lived to their fullest potential, if they are lived at all.

Clearly, the people of the world are suffering now because of expenditures on the arms race. For every 100,000 people in the world, there are 756 soldiers but only 85 doctors. For every soldier, the average world military expenditure is $20,000 for every school-age child, the average public expenditure is $380. However, just one-fifth of an arm's expenditure could abolish world hunger by the year 2000.

Because no public issue is so complex that the citizen cannot understand it, take the opportunity during UN Disarmament Week to become informed about and discuss arms limitation and disarmament issues. Surely democratic, and perhaps the fate of the world, depends on it.

Disarmament forum to be held

A peace and disarmament forum will be held at the J.W. Pickup School next Tuesday as part of United Nations Disarmament Week.

The forum, for anyone concerned about the threat of nuclear war and the crippling costs of the global arms race, will start at 7:30 p.m. in the J.W. Pickup school library.

United Nations Disarmament Week starts tomorrow (Thursday).

Films, discussions, information, contacts, and strategies will highlight next Tuesday's forum, sponsored by the Pembina Institute for Appropriate Development.

Fire chief aware

Bikes, locked doors major fire hazards

There's been a lot of talk lately about fire safety. More specifically, how to get out of your home safely.

But fire safety doesn't stop in the home. Every place, whether it's your home, the children's school or where you go for entertainment or do your shopping, should be concerned.

In case of fire, a lot of lives could be lost if something isn't done about the bikes piled up in front of Drayton Valley's Cadium Theatre. It's almost impassable along the sidewalk for pedestrians on a Saturday afternoon. If a fire was to break out, the people might get to the front doors, but their biggest task would be getting over the pile of bikes.

The other very dangerous situation that exists in many Drayton Valley shops are locked doors. Not all the doors are open. And one day it seems to be the right door that opens, and the next time the left door.

Take a mall or store full of people. They see smoke and flames and hear the fire alarm. They rush for the doors. Unfortunately, half of them are locked. Bodies fall, people are crushed and left to die in the blaze.

Now this is pretty gruesome. But, there are instances in Drayton Valley where this could happen.

Who's at fault? The matter of many of the locked shop doors has been brought to the attention of the fire chief. He has been out and told the owner to open all doors. The next day, they are locked again. Maybe a $1,000 fine might get the hint across.

As far as the theatre is concerned, a bike rack in the parking lot behind the theatre might be the answer. Or, leave the bikes at home and have mom and dad drop you off.

What ever the cure...immediate steps should be taken if you don't want to become a fire statistic.

Reporters need help in providing coverage

Hockey season has started again and we're faced with the same old problem.

Despite how much we ask minor hockey to supply us with names of teams, coaches, managers, their phone numbers, exhibition and regular season schedules...it's the same old story. One guy does it because he wants to get some publicity for his sponsor. No one else calls, but they expect to see their scores in our sports pages.

Minor hockey should understand RIGHT NOW. I have no intention of spending every night and every weekend at the arena covering hockey games. That is the same stand of my staff.

If it's coverage you want call our sports department at 542-6360. Many times our staff won't make your game, but arrangements can be made to get the scores. Last weekend was a good example. Three different Drayton Valley teams played exhibition games. Jim Enyedy, manager of Roses midget Clippers arranged coverage before the weekend. A call was made to Al Federous of the Nolette bantams just because someone told me they played two games.

Editor's Notes

While this is the case with hockey, it also applies to many other groups. If you want coverage, give us a call in plenty of time. Our staff have regular assignments and they will not drop everything just to go and cover your event.

It's just like we've been telling you all along. This is a community newspaper. It's your newspaper. You're the people with the information and we have the resources to get the message out.

If you are within sports organization, or a group planning an event, call me at 542-5380.

bids during the Saturday auction. The items were donated by Drayton Valley and Breton businesses and people from the community. The auction attracted about 100 people.

Winter Carnival

Organizational meeting to be held

An organizational meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 14 to discuss the second annual Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce winter carnival.

Every group and business in Drayton Valley and area who feels they would like to participate, are asked to send a representative to this meeting.

Transition room students

Work program

H.W. Pickup Junior High for the past few years has had in place a work study program for the students in the transition room.

The program is coordinated through the work experience program at the high school. Once each term four times a year, nine transition room students work a half day for two weeks at selected work stations in the community. For those two hours a day, they work under close supervision doing jobs geared for their age level.

The program's objective is for the students to gain valuable working skills and experience in a variety of vocations so as to better equip them in making career choices when they enter the work force.

Local businesses are most supportive of this program and do their best to accommodate our students.

Work stations this term are: Drayton Valley Extended Health Complex, J & A Trucking Ltd., Norville Gifford Services, R & T Pet Supplies, Itark Gold Inn and Mayhew Motors Ltd.

Donor clinic tonight

A Red Cross blood donor clinic will be held tonight (Wednesday) at the Legion Hall in Drayton Valley.

Donor hours are from 5 to 8:30 p.m.

Organizers hope to reach their goal of 150 donors. All donors are reminded to eat before donating.

No definite dates have been set for the second annual winter carnival, but chairman Merv Pasula says there's some thought being given to a 10 day carnival that would include two weekends.

Pasula is hoping that group and business reps will come to the Nov. 14 meeting with ideas that can be included in a 10-day period. Groups, business or individuals with any ideas should contact Pasula at TransAlta Utilities in Drayton Valley.

The first annual Chamber winter carnival was held March 7-10 with a fashion show, crowning of the queen and figure skating show highlighting the event. The event didn't get either the participants or spectators that was expected.

Support group for arthritis

Dear Editor,

I would like to share with people who suffer from rheumatoid arthritis, or just arthritis in its many forms, the fact that we have an active Arthritis Support Group in the Winfield area.

We get together on the first and third Thursdays of each month for one hour beginning at 1:30 p.m. Together we share our common problems, look at ways and means in doing things easier, or we discuss old and new medications and myths regarding arthritis.

We have our meetings in the Winfield office of the Wetoka Health Unit and we have the wonderful support of the occupational therapist and the health nurse, both active and interested in arthritis.

Letters

Just knowing that there is a fellow sufferer out there is a comfort, and knowing that you are not alone in your fight against this crippling disease is support, just what our group is all about.

We welcome you to our meetings. If there is no group in your area, we have ideas we will share on how to get one going. We care and we share. We who suffer are young and old alike, age causes no barriers. It's a wonderful group, and if you feel you could benefit from it, get involved.

The next few meeting dates are Nov. 7 and 21, Dec. 5 and 19. See you there.

Pembina pipeline springs a leak

A "pin hole" leak was found in the Pembina Resources pipeline crossing on the North Saskatchewan River last week.

The leak was reported to the company at 3 p.m. last Thursday and the pipeline was shut down. It crosses the river approximately three and a half miles southeast of Drayton Valley.

The oil was removed from the river crossing and divers found the source of the leak, according to a press release from the company's Calgary office.

The release added that a small, undetermined amount of oil is being gathered from the river by absorbent booms and the clean up of the oil along the banks is in progress. The company was to meet last Friday with the ERCB to review and evaluate the repair program.

Pembina Resources was in the process of constructing a new line to replace the old existing river crossing and is expecting to complete the project by early November. The ERCB, Alberta Environment and Alberta Fish and Wildlife will be monitoring the clean up procedures.

Breton bus service affected

Residents of Breton are being affected by a four-month-old bus strike.

Drivers and ticket agents with Brewster Gray Lines, that serves Breton on its route from Edmonton to Breton and points south, have been on strike since June 1.

More than 500 Breton residents have signed petitions urging resumption of the service.

The Rimby Chamber of Commerce has written letters to Brewster and its parent company, Greyhound Lines asking for the service to be reinstated.

MIA Shirley Cripps reports she has received a number of letters from concerned residents and has forwarded the concerns onto Alberta Transportation Minister Marvin Moore.

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

The new teachers at St. Anthony's

H.W. Pickup will hold a Halloween dance on Thursday, Oct. 31st. There will be judging for the best costume in each grade. The dance will be held from 1 to 3:30 p.m. so it includes both town and rural students.

Students at Elementary B were treated to a performance by Foothills Brass last week. The school also had some other visitors...as County of Parkland board members paid a visit.

Teachers at Elementary B will attend an Institute Day on Oct. 28th at Stony Plain. Theme for the one-day conference is "Preparing for Tomorrow's Change".

The Parent Advisory Group at Eldorado are busy. They are taking a long hard look at the traffic problems around the school.

The parent group will be looking at the lights and crosswalks and will also monitor the loading and unloading of school bus students.

While only a handful of parents turned out to the last meeting they decided to run the soup program and will hold a book sale at a later date.

Pictures will be re-taken at Eldorado on Oct. 28.

Eldorado principal Howard Olson reports an orientation program is underway for new teachers. It's a six-part mini-seminar where the new teachers learn about their introduction to a county's school all the way up to evaluating students.

Parents with students at Frank Maddock can look for the first report card on Nov. 1 with parent-teacher interviews on Nov. 7.

Teachers at FMHS will also be off Oct. 28th for the conference at Stony Plain. So, the kids will be home.

Written portion

Test time short

Results on the written portion of County of Parkland Junior High School Language Arts exams indicate students may not have been given enough time to complete the work required, says the supervisor of the curriculum.

Margaret Bevan told trustees at the Board of Education's Oct. 1 general committee meeting she feels good about the reliability of results achieved on the multiple choice portion of the examinations, however.

In all cases, the results on the multiple choice portion were higher than the results on the written portion of the tests.

The county average for Grade 7, for example, was 64 per cent on the multiple choice exams and 57 per cent on the written portion.

The corresponding percentages were 67 and 55 for the Grade 8 exams and 62 and 59 for Grade 9.

Comparing specific percentage results between the schools can be misleading, Bevan said, because the number of students writing the exams varies with the size of the school.

Nonetheless, the curriculum department will be approaching schools which did well on the exams to find out how they were able to achieve such good results.

The information will be passed on to other schools in the county system.

The schools which achieved the best results on the Grade 7 multiple choice exam were Broxton Park and Woodhaven. Meridian Heights and Muir Lake had the highest average in the Grade 7 written portion.

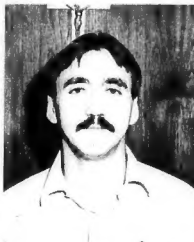

Woodhaven, Broxton Park, Graminia and Muir Lake did well on the Grade 8 multiple choice exam. Graminia and Woodhaven also showed the best achievement on the written portion.

Results from the Grade 9 language arts multiple choice exam show Woodhaven and Broxton Park with the highest averages in the county. Redfield, Blueberry and Stony Plain Junior High achieved the best results on the written portion.

Credit for good results at the junior high school level must be shared with the schools which trained students in previous years, Bevan pointed out.

Results from the county's junior high mathematics exams were not as high as administrators would like them to be, she said.

Walshman and Woodhaven are the schools which accumulated the highest average on the Grade 7 exam. Grade 8 students at Stony Plain Junior High and Woodhaven had the highest average on their mathematics test.

Kevin Sommer received his bachelor of education from the University of Alberta. Summer has taught in Provost, he is now teaching two science classes and a variety of others at St. Anthony's. He is single.

Paula Ryerson took her training at the University of Alberta and obtained her bachelor of education. Ryerson taught in the County of Leduc for three years before coming to St. Anthony's. She is teaching language arts, social studies and physical education.

Patty Hasenlever obtained her bachelor of education at the University of Alberta. Hasenlever taught in Westlock for two years before coming to St. Anthony's. She is now a half-time Grade 5 teacher.

Patricia Nemeth took her training at the University of Regina and obtained her bachelor of education. Nemeth taught in Fort McMurray for five years and is now teaching Grade 1 at St. Anthony's. She is married.

Scavenger adventure

Riddle packets given to students

Frank Maddock High School is getting involved in the Great Scavenger Adventure. The adventure runs from Oct. 25 to Nov. 1. The purpose of this is simply to be a fun event for the students.

Teams of students will each be given a packet of riddles made up by the teachers. Each riddle answered will give the students an item to add to their scavenger list. To win the Great Scavenger Adventure the teams will have to bring back all or as many items as possible.

It is going to cost students $1 per person. The grand prize is a pizza lunch at Coxsacke with an extended lunch break. At the finale on Nov. 1 all participants will meet in the Rec. Dept. to determine the winners. Hot dogs and juice will be provided for all the teams.

The teams are composed of 11 members: four Grade 10s, three Grade 11s, and four Grade 12s. All students are requested and encouraged to get involved. The activity is sponsored by the FMHS Students Union.

Diane Galka took her training at the University of Alberta and obtained her bachelor of education. Galka previously taught in Vegreville, and now at St. Anthony's she will be teaching French for Grades 2-9. She is single.

Recreation

Runners of all ages participated in the seventh annual run.

Runner disappears

Record entries in Tomahawk trail trot

A record 238 runners participated in Tomahawk school's seventh annual Trail Trot last Saturday.

Competition was strong this year due to the increase in entries. The participation trophy was awarded to Robina Baker, even though they had never competed in the competition before.

Make-shift team wins oldtimer tourney

They were put together from the ranks of the rec hockey league but that didn't stop them from winning.

Drayton Valley No. 2 team won it all on the weekend, going undefeated to claim the first place in the first annual Lamplighters hockey tournament.

The team, comprising of players over 35 from the rec league, won it in a shootout in the final against Wainwright. The teams were tied after regulation time ended at 6-6.

Dave Butler led the way for the team with five goals in the contest. Butler scored the first four Drayton Valley goals before Dick Martenson replied. And then Butler capped off the scoring with a goal late in the game to tie it up for the local team.

The game went to a shootout with Drayton Valley taking the first place trophy. The B side final also went to a shootout with Ft. Saskatchewan beating the Drayton Valley Lamplighters. The two teams were tied at 5-5 after regulation play ended. Bill Hays had two goals for the host team in the losing cause.

A member of the losing team looks on.

Edson took the C side while Devon claimed the D side of the eight-team tournament.

Drayton Valley 2 were the only team to go undefeated as they opened with a 10-4 trouncing of Ft. Saskatchewan, then beat Edson 6-2 before meeting Wainwright in the final.

The Lamplighters lost their first game in a shootout to Whitecourt, then blanked Hinton 9-0 before being edged in the final. Other scores included Wainwright over Hinton 8-6, Edson 5-4 over Devon and Ft. Saskatchewan over Devon also by a 5-4 score.

The Drayton Valley 2 team also won the fair play trophy for having the lowest number of penalties during the tournament.

The only down side of the three-day affair was when one of the Edson players broke his ankle after losing his balance.

Organizers say the tournament was a big success and will run again next year.

Junior Blades drop two exhibition games

By Lorne Chutkow

The 1987-88 edition of the Drayton Valley Blades made their debut last weekend in two exhibition games.

Although both ended up losses for the local junior B squad, coach Simon Kelly was happy with their efforts.

"In both games we stayed with them for two periods and then just ran out of pucks," Kelly said. "The Blades lost their first contest 7-3 to the Rocky Rockets in Rocky Mountain House on Saturday night. Chad Allen had a goal and two assists to lead the Blades' effort, with Grant McElroy and Keith Hills getting the other Blades goals."

The rough game featured 65 penalties including 36 to the host Rockets.

The Blades hit the scoreboard first in the game with Allen's goal at the 7:52 mark of the first period. After one period it was tied at 1-1 and Rocky lead 3-2 after two periods. Duane McElroy, a former Red Deer Rustler, led the way for Rocky with two goals and two assists.

In Hinton on Sunday, the Blades dropped a 9-5 decision. Doug Bacon scored twice and assisted on two others in a losing cause. Hinton led 3-1 after one and 7-4 after 30 minutes. Kevin Hutchinson Mike Benoit and Jason Trenehuk got the other Blades' goals.

Coach Kelly was also happy with the effort in Hinton.

"We're missing a couple of guys to make a third line," Kelly added.

In addition to the player shortage problem they lost Mark Laine for six weeks with a separated shoulder.

"We need a couple of more players to balance things out," Kelly said.

"They played with a lot of heart and discipline," Kelly added about the two weekend games.

All three officials try to break up a fight in the junior game in Rocky Mountain House.

No support

Coaches puzzled

Coaches Simon Kelly and Marco Scifoglio are puzzled.

The two coaches with the local Junior B team can't understand why the Blades aren't getting more support.

"Drayton Valley should be proud to have a junior team," Kelly said.

"Nick Morris and I are astonished at how many people want us in town," Kelly added.

It's beyond both of us.

Kelly said he was also surprised that minor hockey decided not to affiliate with them.

"We're rather disappointed the midgets decided not to affiliate," Kelly explained.

Drayton Valley is too fortunate to have a junior team for players to go on to.

"The success of a junior hockey team only shows the success of a minor hockey system," he added.

The team is also still looking for a few more financial sponsors.

If anyone is interested in helping out the team they can contact Kelly at 542-7146 or Scifoglio at 542-5626 in the evenings.

The town expects to start flooding the outdoor rink in early December.

They will also build four snowbank rinks.

However the outdoor rink, located next to the HW Pickup School will only remain open if there is no vandalism.

Adults can learn to read and write

A project just begun in Drayton Valley offers a chance for adults to learn to read and write.

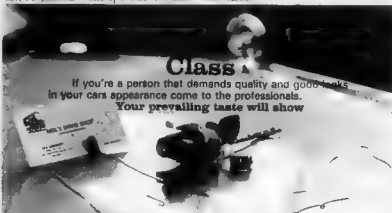

Nine volunteers underwent training to become tutors, which involved 15 hours of course work. Now each volunteer is matched with an adult needing help in basic literacy. They meet together 30 minutes and plan to visit each student and tutor.

"It's an exciting project for the community," said Anne Griffiths, co-ordinator of the project. "I'm very pleased with the number of volunteers who have come forward. In sharing their skills, tutors have the potential to open up a whole new world for another person," Griffiths added.

The Drayton Valley Community Literacy Project is looking for more volunteers for a training course to run in November. At the moment, we have several students wanting help and no trained tutors in stock with them," said Griffiths.

If you are interested in learning or know someone who might be, contact Powerhouse Further Education at 542-3371. Information: People wanting help with reading and writing should contact the same number.

Sekura Park

Park should be left as is

People are unhappy with the trees and underbrush that have been taken out of Sekura Park, which is located near the hospital.

The park is cut up by the location of the year old hospital, the new water reservoir and tennis courts and the Mobil house.

According to recreation board member Larry Pufferback who looked at possibilities for the park he found out that the majority of the people in the area want to see the park left in its natural state.

"They all stressed strongly that they do not want any trees removed to fast, too many have already been removed," Pufferback stated.

The only recommendation Pufferback had for the park was the possible development of a walking path of concrete or crushed gravel from the hospital parking lot to the tennis courts.

Visually impaired

CNIB help thousands across the country

By Iles Lanchbury

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind helps thousands of blind and visually impaired citizens across Canada.

Chuck Peterson is a totally blind member of the CNIB works in central Alberta helping people who are in contact with the blind and those who are blind. Peterson's work consists of going out with the blind and their families. Being visually impaired stops many people from doing what they desire. Peterson helps these people get out of a slump, and back to leading a semi-normal life.

The CNIB serves 1006 visually impaired people across Canada, including four in Drayton Valley. It teaches the visually impaired how to live with their disability, how to get around safely, and the hardest task of all, accepting blindness. "Accepting my blindness was very difficult. Right now my vision is 20 over 200. Eventually I will lose all of my sight. Sometimes I will wake up in the morning and notice that I have lost a little more of my sight, that really hurts," said Peterson.

On Saturday, Oct. 12 the CNIB is raising funds in the Drayton Mall, with the Lions and Luncheon clubs of Drayton Valley. Many people that passed by were reluctant to go up and make a donation to the cause. "Most people feel too doubtful because they don't know where the donation is going, and what it does when it gets there," said Luncheon club president Fernie Kumbhough. The Lions and Luncheon clubs have always and will always help the blind," said Lions club member Ken Gremm.

The donations go to such things as the 1006 libraries, taking the newspapers, talking rule book etc. But only do the donations go to paraplegics for the blind but the CNIB needs an annual sum of more than one million dollars per year for case work and counselling.

Since the CNIB is a non-profit organization the donations are devoted entirely to the visually impaired people of Canada, added Peterson.

Case International 1896 & 2086 Tractors

Modern, efficient diesels are the key to field performance

Field efficiency begins with modern engines that are the combination of proven diesel and turbocharging technology, computer assisted design and advanced manufacturing techniques. The result is exceptional torque output, excellent fuel efficiency, long-term reliability and very smooth operation.

Standard Mechanical Front Drive (MFD) provides extra traction and better climbing power on steeply sloping conditions. It allows you to get more work done faster and in less time. You'll get more output from each inch of each wheel's footprint.

All this plus advanced instrumentation that helps you work more effectively, and more efficiently, and that only if you have Case High-Low can provide are yours in Case 1896 and 2086 tractors.

See us for information about the newest Case International tractors. And our good prices.

Hospital auxiliary buying new handibus

By Frank Ryan

The Drayton Valley and District Hospital complex has a new handibus.

The hospital and the users are indebted to the 25 members of the hospital auxiliary, who have accepted the challenge of raising the money to pay for the $35,700 handibus.

The hospital auxiliary has two sources of fund raising: the Thrift Shop and the Gift Shop at the hospital. The volunteer group hopes to have $30,000 toward the cost of the handibus by the end of the year.

The Thrift Shop is open two days a week: Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 4 p.m. The last Friday of every month is tag day.

Everything that is sold is donated

Everything that is sold at the Thrift Shop is donated. There is no profit. Clothing, furniture, toys, ornaments, appliances and miscellaneous items. Small appliances, shoes, purses, winter parkies, hats, coffee, pots, etc. donate, boxed books, bulletin papers, and things for every age of the family.

Behind the scenes at the Thrift Shop, members of the hospital auxiliary are busy cleaning and washing the donated items.

So popular is the items sold at the Thrift Shop are known far and wide, which have brought in money from Weyburn, Wadena, Hinton, and other towns.

The spring and fall are the best times of the year for donations to the Thrift Shop. It is then the staff find themselves all out of their closets and need more clothes.

There are always when the hospital auxiliary is moving.

The gift shop located in the main hall of the

The Thrift Shop is run by the Hospital Auxiliary.

The Thrift Shop is open from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1 to 3 p.m. on tag day. Tag day is on Thursday from 6:00 p.m. to 8 p.m.

As well as the hospital staff find the clothes, hand made clothes, stuffed animals, magazines, counterfeit money, artificial flowers, jewelry, and more are also on display in the gift shop.

The auxiliary is a gift containing many of the items available at the gift shop, which are in its rounds to the rooms.

The hospital auxiliary would like to extend their hours at the gift shop to five nights a week and weekends but they need more members.

Members of the hospital auxiliary are to be recommended for their new job contribution to the community. If anyone would like to share in this type of work, call or write to Pat McKeown.

Musical family

Cropley's were a busy family in Berrymore district

By Donna Haukeled

Bea Cropley was born in a log house in the Berrymore district in 1916, the eldest daughter in a family of 10.

Her mother had been born and raised in South Africa and came to Berrymore when she was 19. She died of cancer after the last baby was born so Bea was left to care for the house and the six children.

Water — you ran out to the well and wheeled it like bucket down 4 feet and brought it up," Bea says with a chuckle.

She remembers the cold winter mornings

when her father would start a fire in the wood heater and they would run down to dress beside it, roasting their fronts while their backsides froze.

Water was scarce and hard, so in the summer

the kids would load the old horse down with bags of laundry and take it to the river about a half mile away to a place they called "back side." They made a circle of staves with a fire in the centre in which they sat the wash tub. Here they scrubbed their clothes on a wash board. They would then have lunch and spend the rest of the day swimming and having fun while their clothes dried over drift wood and branches. Bea says she can't imagine swimming in that water now. "I freeze just think ing about it. We used to have a whole of a time entertaining ourselves.

The Cropleys were a musical family. Bea and her sister played the pump organ. Two sisters played guitar, two brothers played violin, guitar and mandolin and one brother sang.

They, along with the Davidson family across the river, formed an orchestra and played for local dances. Bea's boys were used to cross the river.

They had to get it over a dam for themselves, but one night found themselves tied as The All Star

Orchestra. The name stuck.

The first time Bea was afraid, she says was the time she crossed the river with Louis Davidson to visit her friend Rita. The boat they used had dried and cracked from sitting in the sun. Louis rowed and I bailed as hard as I could. By the time we got almost across the water was coming in so fast we went down and had to swim the rest of the way.

In 1936 Bea married Dick Cropley and didn't have to change her name. They continued to live in the Berrymore district.

As well as her own family of four, Bea looked after two other motherless girls for about two years, plus her younger brothers and sisters.

Three months before her last baby was born, Bea was left alone. "If I hadn't a big faith in God, I tell you, I'd never have been able to raise my kids," she now says.

Bea Cropley, 69, sits in her home.

For 16 years Bea was the superintendent of the Sunday school in Berrymore.

When she was 45 she cooked for the Faith's

Little Institute near Wainfield. She attended classes for four years, took voice training and trained as a pianist. The last two years she spent as the Dean of Women.

After her children left home Bea went to work in milked camps in many areas, including Rainbow

Lake, Hines Creek, Fox Creek, Ft. Assiniboine,

James River and Lodgepole.

Bea moved to Drayton Valley in 1975. She now manages the apartments where she lives, takes 65 to 66 pies a week to sell at the Farmers' Market, cooks on order, crochets, knits, paints and plays the organ for her church.

She has faced a lot of tragedy in her lifetime.

A brother, whom she said was her pal and with whom she did a lot of travelling, was killed in a car accident. Her youngest sister was also killed in a car accident east of Drayton Valley about three years ago and two more sisters were victims of a car accident near Drayton Valley the following July. She recently received word that her younger brother in B.C. is terminally ill. Despite the hearterache, Bea manages a great sense of humor and enjoys life to the fullest.

She has three married daughters, Danya of Spence Grove, Linda of Looma, Beth at Lindsa-

and son Gordon and wife and family at Berrymore.

She also has 13 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Leaders urged to register for conference

By Candace Birner, Regional Specialist

"Late Out to Leaders", is the theme for the 1986 provincial leaders conference to be held Nov. 22-24 in Red Deer. Are you planning to attend? Is your club leader submitting his/her application?

Enjoyed the conference? Well, there will be organized social events and a conference very worthwhile. For I learned a lot and can take that back to share with my club members and assistant leaders. Are you coming from 4-H leaders who attended last year?

If you are a leader from your club would like to attend this year's conference, now is the time to apply. Application forms are in the 4-H Provincial Program book at the winter of 1986. These booklets were mailed to club leaders along with the fall registration package.

The East Central Regional 4-H Conference is co-hosting this 2-day event this year. About 300 leader delegates from all over the province will have the opportunity to meet, exchange ideas and gain new information.

The program includes sessions on addresses and direct, motivational management of stress, time and conflict as well as other skills which will help leaders work more effectively in groups.

A new feature this year are mini sessions with topics we varied. There will be topics for everyone. There will be information sessions on some of our newer projects as well as topics such as how to equip your car for winter survival.

Hotel accommodations in Red Deer as well as bus transportation to and from the conference will be provided by the 4-H branch.

Who can take advantage of all this conference has to offer? Well, if you are a 4-H club assistant or group leader.

Applications must be received by the Regional 4-H office by Oct. 21. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact our office at 874-9236.

Now is the time to get. I would like to be a part of the 44th annual leaders conference.

Coming events

1. Region 4-H leaders workshop registration deadline: Friday, Oct. 25-85
2. Competitive trail ride weekend workshop: Oct. 26 and 27-85.

Recreation board to meet

The Drayton Valley Recreation Board wants to hold a joint meeting with the Council of Parkland to discuss table tennis, curling, and other sports that have been lacking in the north between both councils and the recreation board.

Recreation director Calvin Bennett said he heard last week that he had made several calls to other centres to see how they handle their activities. "I recognized we're not something at the provincial level and take that Council. Then we'd start."

Tom McFey thought the board was making a mountain out of a mole hill. "I don't see it being that much trouble."

Ed Harkness went on to explain that the board had been looking at the issue for months. However, Harkness said the council was only looking at

Recreation volunteers

The newest member of the recreation board, Susan Kelly, wanted to know about the board members who may not make, please, please. For those people, board member Susan Kelly suggested they would be recognized by the board.

No date was set for the meeting.

Post office offer special rates for Xmas mail

Canada Post has announced a two-cent discount on postage for Christmas cards mailed to destinations within Canada.

Special stamps packaged in booklets of 10 will sell for $3.20 and will be available for general sale at all postal outlets on Nov. 1. The 1985 Christmas Value Pack is the first part of a long-term plan that will provide additional per-gram savings in future years.

As a result of a cooperative effort with members of the Gift Packaging and Envelope and Association of Canada, the corporation will provide, for Christmas 1986, a five-cent reduction of postage. This special rate will be available to users of greeting card envelopes which will bear a printed matrix on which the postal code must be ticked.

The specially printed matrix that will be featured on at least half of the envelopes available to customers next year, constitutes a considerable improvement over the concept that was tested in pilot cities last Christmas.

This long-term plan will offer Canadians a substantial reduction in their postage costs during the holiday season, while contributing to Canada Post's efforts to increase the large volumes of mail received during Christmas more efficiently, said J. R. Taylor, vice president, Marketing and Sales.

We welcome the opportunity to cooperate with Canada Post in encouraging the tradition of sending holiday greetings, as well as helping to reduce postage costs at Christmas for the Canadian public, said Richard Curran, chairman, Gift Packaging and Greeting Card Association.

The plan will be monitored closely, it says, its impact on public acceptance of mail volume and processing efficiency.

Agricultural office to hold forms meeting

By popular demand, we have arranged to hold the Forms meeting.

We've booked the conference room in the Provincial Building for 1 p.m. Nov. 8. It's a free session and a calculator is a good idea!

The alternative is to wait in line at the office. If you're a die-hard computer person, the best day is Wednesday or Friday when there's some extra help.

At the meeting we'll discuss all three of the boxes of the various programs and how to help the group fill out their forms, particularly the right Assistant and the Feed Form's Manual. Most of the forms are new.

Hopefully by then we'll have some forms in for the Feed Freight Assistance and the Red Meat Stabilization programs. The new programs are even running some new projects in the works!

To refresh your memory, here's a list of what's available today.

Tips

Safety and your woodburning stove

The National Fire Protection Association reminds us that, when he is a home heat unit, it is usually human error that causes the fire.

The last two weeks my column has covered many of the factors to consider before deciding to purchase a woodburning stove, as well as points to help you decide which of the many stoves on the market is right for you. A primary consideration, however, is the purchase and use of a safe unit.

The best protection against a home heating fire and the human error involved is to edge know the risks associated with woodburning stoves and to follow the instructions with care of mind. The National Fire Protection Association lists four major risks as:

1. Inadequate clearance between combustible material and stoves and chimneys connections.
2. Improper installation.
3. Improper operation.
4. Improper handling of combustible material.

In addition to these, it is suggested that members of the fire service be kept in mind.

(1) Keep a fire extinguisher handy in the room where the stove is located.

(2) Keep a fire extinguisher handy in the room where the stove is located.

(3) Keep a fire extinguisher handy in the room where the stove is located.

(4) Keep a fire extinguisher handy in the room where the stove is located.

(5) Keep a fire extinguisher handy in the room where the stove is located.

(16) Keep a fire extinguisher handy in the room where the stove is located.

(17) Keep a fire extinguisher handy in the room where the stove is located.

(18) Keep a fire extinguisher handy in the room where the stove is located.

When a wood-burning stove is lighting, it is important to keep the stove and the chimney clear of any obstructions.

It is also important to keep the stove and the chimney clear of any obstructions.

Don't use lighter fluid, kerosene, gasoline or other flammable liquids to help start a fire.

Don't ever leave a fire unattended.

Don't place the stove near a combustible floor.

Don't use trash or charcoal as fuel.

Don't store wood near the stove. It should be at least three feet away.

Each year, thousands of chimney fires occur and hundreds of Canadians die or are injured as a result.

Prevent this from happening to you and your family by eliminating human error.

Follow the 10's and 100's tips listed above and you will be safe.

For more information, contact your local fire department.

Please feel free to contact me if you have further questions about woodburning stoves.

Dream jobs

Career centre offers employment information

By Max McLaren

Career Counsellor
Look at people with "glamorous" occupations - hockey players, singers and models.

These people seem to have "dream" jobs - money, fame, excitement! But look again. Doesn't the grass always look greener on the other side? Even certain aspects of their jobs are boring, repetitious or just plain hard work. Exhausting travel and work schedules, hours of exercise and practice, and having an image to live up to can be a drag. These people get where they are through years of concentrated effort and sacrifice. They'll stay on top only if they continue to work at it each day in a positive way.

Every job has its ups and downs. Having an enjoyable job doesn't mean you'll never experience boredom, anxiety, frustration or despair. Most people find some aspect of their jobs unpleasant, whether it's dealing with irate customers or clients, doing mounds of paper work, cutting through bureaucratic "red tape" or working in the freezing cold. There will always be days when we feel exasperated because we can't change a situation or solve a problem.

Yet, we all know people who seem to enjoy their work most of the time. They laugh, joke and are always in good humor. We assume it must be the nature of their work - they must have "dream jobs"? Not...maybe not!

The fact is, the dream job is a myth - it doesn't exist. Enjoyment comes from the way people see their work. They take pride in doing a job well, putting others at ease, and contributing their best. Such attitudes can be applied to any job, glamorous or ordinary, exciting or routine.

People who have a positive attitude toward their work, also have a positive attitude toward their lives. It's a way of thinking that transforms what could be negative or dull in your life into a positive or exciting experience. Building more satisfaction into your job may mean approaching them with some creativity. Having a positive attitude is the key.

For more information on how to find the "right" job for you, drop in or call:

YOU HAVE BEEN HYPNOTIZED

Have you ever placed your keys or your glasses somewhere and two minutes later wondered where you put them? Or, forget where you just parked your car? Then, you were in a hypnotic trance.

Have you ever thought the door bell or phone rang, but it didn't? Have you ever looked for something that was "staring you in the face", but you didn't see it? Ever driven your car for miles and wondered how you got there? These are a few examples of common everyday hypnotic trances everyone experiences. You have already been hypnotized thousands of times.

Have you ever told yourself to awaken at a set time in the morning and you did? Have you ever said "I'll bite this where WHO OME can find it" and you couldn't find it yourself? Have you ever said "I can't lose weight or I can't quit smoking"? Then you have given suggestion to yourself.

Have you ever forgotten a name that was on the tip of your tongue? Where did the name go? In the back of your mind, your subconscious or in your mind? You can learn to make your subconscious work with you for instead of against you.

Romane's main concern is to have hypnotic accessible to everyone. There are other hypnotists who charge $60. to $150. for comparable services. His humaneness shows through when he says, "My clients should be helped by everyone and used for the good of humankind and the community."

Romane learned his skills by studying with master hypnotists in New York, San Francisco, Seattle and many other cities. His studies began over 25 years ago. The key to Romane's success in helping others lies in the fact Romane is "a man of action."

Although the sessions are helpful and fun, this is NOT a large hypnotic. Therapeutic hypnosis is nine times as powerful.

Romane is not scheduled to tour your area again for some time. If you want help to lose weight or quit smoking, be sure to come! Registration begins 15 minutes before the session.

Hairstressing certificate

FMHS student gets top marks

By Ray Jamnshury

Hard work has paid off for Heidi Hout. Hout completed the hairstressing course at Frank Marshall High School in Drayton Valley, then appeared at the Alberta Cosmetology and Hair Styling School in Edmonton for 16 weeks.

Hout then appeared at Saskatchewan in Edmonton. From there she went to Marvyn Hair Styling School in Edmonton for 16 weeks. She has recently taken her Journeymen Certificate exams with flying colours, a passing mark of 83 per cent. Hout passed the theory exam with a mark of 94 per cent and the practical exam with a 79 per cent.

Hout is a Thompson hair salon owner here at the end of January at which time she will receive her hairstressing certificate.

It took good time for the first one to make it this far, she commented.

Rita Hout, women's culture instructor at FMHS, says Hout was a good student and worked very hard. FMHS principal Alan Day was very excited about Hout's success, as she is the first graduate of the program to pass the registry exams.

FAME

Pam Grier is inching her way back to the top

By Lynn Hoogenboom

Pam Grier once had it all. She was queen of the B's heroine of such black action flicks as "Coffy" and "Foxy Brown," and one of only two "blacklist" women stars (the other was Barbra Streisand) in the mid-70s. So what happened? "It's hard to maintain that bigness," says Miss Grier. "I was working 36 hours a day. I finally said, 'Let me step back and grow a brain.'"

The first straw apparently was the constant interviews covering such mammoth topics as what she liked to cook and how she spent a typical day. "I can't begin when I'm being interviewed," she says. "I wanted to grow and bring back something fresh. So for three years I decided not to do anything but grow. At the time she wasn't even sure she was going to return to acting."

After spending a few years doing what she wanted to do, Miss Grier returned to the screen in 1981 in a small but memorable role in "Fort Apache, The Bronx." She has been working since, a bit more radically ever since. Recently, however, her career has once again begun to blossom.

She made two highly visible guest appearances on the hit series "Miami Vice" as the on-and-off girlfriend of Frank (Michael Thomas). "I used to say he hated my clothes and that's why he left me," but I guess he liked my clothes the last time."

On Saturday, Nov. 2, her national profile will reach another notch when the CBS movie "Badge of the Assassin" is based on the true story of two police officers, one black and one white, who were gunned down by members of the Black Liberation Army in early 1972 and the long and frustrating attempt of Assistant District Attorney Robert Tannenbaum (Dillon) to bring the killers to justice.

"The cast is amazing," says Miss Grier. James Woods, Yaphet Kotto. I play a woman with a group conspiring to kill a revolution. She wants to see changes but all of a sudden it backfires. Innocent people get killed and she becomes a witness. She's trying to be lawful but wants to protect her friends too."

But she is proudest of her part in the Los Angeles film "Foxy Brown," the stage production of the Sam Shepherd play "Foxy for Love," in which she stars with Moses Gunn and Richard Leeman. Both the production and Miss Grier have generated excellent reviews. "It's all I could ever ask for to do a play like this," she says.

And in the future? "I want to be involved in projects that make people think. Let's not just make the teen success of our allowances. Let's take chances. Let's make them feel."

—Lisa Compagno
